

Software Engineer, Back-End - Entry-Level - E2 Visa fees paid if required

Description of the company

A company specialized in video streaming, is looking for a Software Engineer for their San Francisco, office. You will work in a young, growing company.

Missions/Skills

- Maintenance and improvements of the current back-end and logging system
- Coding using Test Driven Development approach.
- Redaction of internal processes.

- A Master's or Bachelor's degree in Computer Science
- Strong interest in code and new technology
- Student or personal projects in at least 2 of the development environments
 - Frontend: JS
 - Backend/Storage: PHP Symfony 2/3
 - Dev/Prod: Git (w/ Github Flow), Docker
- Driven by the determination to constantly improve the user's experience
- A high level of spoken and written English competency.